INVITATION

Dear TransParcNet colleagues,
Dear special Guests,

We cordially invite you to the next TransParcNet meeting at the German-Dutch Nature Park Maas-Schwalm-Nette. With the local forecast of a hot, dry summer, combined with the consequences of climate change, this year's topic is more topical than ever: “FIRE AND WATER - How to deal with ‘natural’ disasters in transboundary parks cooperation?”

Transboundary Protected Areas can work together to prevent and manage "natural" disasters.

In addition to lectures and workshops, there will be excursions to the fire and flood areas and to the Tagebau Garzweiler, an open-cast mine.

The get-together will not be neglected either. As every year, there will be a traditional cultural evening, where everyone can bring along specialities specific to the country or region. The dance and music evening will take place during a boat trip on the Maas.

Please find attached a draft programme and the practical information. Further information will be sent to participants after registration.
