EUOPARC Federation eNews

January-February 2020

Dear readers,

2019 was a year of unprecedented awareness raising on the need to change - for climate, for people, for life on earth. Either you are among the old-schools who have been advocating for nature protection over the last decades, or a youngster striking for climate, you certainly feel this wave of awareness. Now, it is in our hands to surf this wave of change, and ensure that once it weakens, the structures, competences and skills needed for the change to happen are in place.

This is why, in 2020, our EUOPARC members will have access to ground breaking capacity building opportunities and innovative ways of networking with nature professionals. Right now, registration for the "Natura 2000 in practice" Spring School is open, and is the call for the Alfred Toepfer Natural Heritage Scholarship for young professionals.

Talking about "change", in 2020, new EUOPARC Council members & President will be elected, in October 27-30 at Neusiedler See-Seewinkel National Park. This might be your opportunity to join the strategic heads of the EUOPARC Federation and contribute to the largest network of Protected Areas in Europe. The call for candidates will open in March. Meanwhile, we will need the help of all our members to define the next EUOPARC Strategy. Early next month, we will ask for your inputs through an online. We are keen to make sure that every member has a say!

From our office in Brussels, we share with you our latest paper highlighting the role of Protected Areas as key actors for the next EU 2030 Biodiversity Strategy and a personal statement on Brexit by EUOPARC Executive Director.

p.s. Please note that we have new email addresses! Please update your contact list, here you'll find the new email addresses of the Federation and staff members.

We wish good readings,
EUOPARC Directorate

Beyond Brexit

A personal statement on Brexit

from Carol Ritchie
EUROPARC Federation
Executive Director

Beyond Brexit

It's (sadly) official. On the 31st of January the United Kingdom left the European Union. "EUROPARC remains, undimmed, the voice of ALL Europe's Protected Areas. As a family of protected areas, the constituent parts of the UK will continue to be essential to us. And we, in EUROPARC are a vital bridge between the islands and the continent."
